PRECAUTIONS AND SAFE PRACTICES TO FOLLOW AS STUDENTS PREPARE FOR SPRING RECESS

Miami-Dade County Public Schools (M-DCPS) is a tireless advocate for its students and their families. The overall health and well-being of our students and employees have been of utmost importance to the school district since the onset of the pandemic. M-DCPS has been proactive in providing services and resources in addition to implementing preventive measures to address COVID-19.

With Spring Recess approaching and the COVID-19 pandemic lingering, we continue to partner with you and our greater community to meet the known and unknown challenges of COVID-19. As a preliminary precaution, we strongly urge families to refrain from international travel during the upcoming Spring Recess. Should families need to travel, they must adhere to the new Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's

\(CDC\) guidelines on air travel.

This past January, the CDC announced an order requiring all air passengers arriving to the United States from a foreign country to get tested no more than three days before departure. Travelers must present a negative result or documentation of having recovered from COVID-19 to the airline before boarding their flight. Passengers who are unable to provide negative results will be denied re-entry into the country.

We ask that your family continue to observe the COVID-19 preventative practices of wearing facial coverings, maintaining physical distance and frequently washing your hands. Notify the school principal if your child tests positive for COVID-19 or has been in close contact with someone who has the virus. Let's commit to working together to keep our community safe.

TERESA MURPHY NAMED M-DCPS TEACHER OF THE YEAR, NERISSA MANELA IS ROOKIE TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Teresa Ellen Murphy

Nerissa Manela

Teresa Ellen Murphy's inspiration for teaching is simple – it is her students at Spanish Lake Elementary School. The 27-year veteran 3rd-grade teacher was named the 2022 Francisco R. Walker Miami-Dade County Teacher of the Year in a virtual ceremony that was live streamed on February 4, 2021.

Teaching is a lifelong passion for Murphy, who believes that students must take ownership of their learning to reach their full potential. She created a daily “Home Learning Organizational Chart” for students and parents to monitor and reflect on their work. She wants to impact students' lives in such a way that 20 years later, they return grateful for the kindness, understanding and special attention they received. Such was the case with a recent invitation to the law school graduation of a former kindergartener.

Murphy is always the first to share new practices and technology with her colleagues and utilizes her data analysis and grant writing skills to innovate and enhance the learning experience.

She involves students in community service projects like collecting toys for homeless youth, and creating awareness about stroke prevention, as she suffered a stroke in 2012. This year, as she battles other health challenges, she demonstrates to her students the power of determination, positivity, and perseverance. Developing compassion, citizenship and a sense of community is her goal – as “good humans” are just as important as “good students.”

The runner-up is Yolette Mezadieu from Miami Edison Senior High School.

Nerissa Manela, a music teacher from Morningside K-8 Academy, was named the 2021 Rookie Teacher of the Year. Describing herself as determined, when she was six years old, Manela recalls asking her parents for violin lessons. That musical instrument has led to her career. While cultivating an appreciation for the arts and uncovering hidden talents, she also introduces students to multiple musical genres and cultures.

Erica Echeverri of TERRA Environmental Research Institute is the runner-up.

A career and technology-based education will propel a child forward beyond the average student by giving them the academic, technical and employability skills needed to succeed in life.

Career and Technical Education (CTE) is at the forefront of preparing students to be "College and Career Ready." The programs and courses offered in Miami-Dade County Public Schools (M-DCPS) are integrated with academics to create a rigorous and relevant curriculum. CTE programs are more academically rigorous than those of a previous generation and many focus on areas ranging from STEM, Engineering, Law, Hospitality and Finance and lead to future study after high school, educating students in more than 70 career options based on 16 subjects or Career Clusters®.

M-DCPS offers CTE programs and courses to students in sixth through eighth grade, as well as in high schools, post-secondary technical colleges, and adult education centers. Students are introduced to CTE programs in the middle school grades through exploratory and introductory courses, which are designed to pique their interest in learning about career clusters and pathways. High school students may also study CTE as dually-enrolled students in M-DCPS' Technical Colleges or in university courses.

Throughout February, M-DCPS celebrates CTE month with the end goal of increasing parent-student awareness of CTE programs and academies as aligned to high-skill, high-wage and high-growth careers. More than 92 percent of all high
